

12 AMERICANS, 14 MEXICANS KILLED IN CARRIZAL FIGHT

BLAMES U.S. TROOPS FOR FIRST CLASH

CARRANZA SENDS NOTE TO WASHINGTON CRITICISING AMERICANS FOR BLOOD-SHED ON WEDNESDAY.

MEXICANS QUIT JUAREZ

Carranza Garrison at Town Across from El Paso Makes a Hasty Exodus Southward.—Pershing's Report Anxiously Awaited.

Washington, June 22.—No reason for a change in policy toward Mexico is seen by the Washington government in Mexican accounts of the clash at Carrizal yesterday. Until a report comes from General Pershing there will be no decision, but President Wilson is said to view the fight as an incident for which subordinate commanders probably were responsible and not as likely to precipitate in general hostilities.

El Paso, Texas, June 22.—The American troops, including the commander, and seventeen prisoners, while fourteen Mexicans were killed and thirty wounded in the battle at Carrizal according to official announcement today of the Mexican consulate, which said it had received complete details from Villa Ahumada. The Americans removed their wounded with them. The loss of the Americans can be counted as they lay on the field of battle. The Mexicans captured twenty horses and twenty rifles at Carrizal, they claimed.

Evacuating Juarez. Juarez, the Mexican town across the Rio Grande from here, was evacuated at ten o'clock today. It was officially reported on this side that three thousand of soldiers had some forward during early morning and that three more trains had been loaded in preparation for departure. American army officials expressed the opinion that evacuation would be completed and the town would be beyond the range of the American artillery.

General Bell, instead of going to Fort Bliss this morning, remained down town with headquarters at a club, where he lived. Notwithstanding the preparations for departure, soldiers remained on duty at the customs gate and General Gonzales' headquarters, while a few remained in the streets.

Put Blame on U. S.

Washington, June 22.—An official communication from the Mexican foreign office announcing a clash between Mexican and American troops at Carrizal, and saying the de facto government of Carrizal had been received from the American side, was delivered to Secretary Lansing today by Mexican Ambassador, the Mexican ambassador designated.

The communication, telegraphed by General Aguilar, Carranza's foreign minister, follows: "Please bring to the attention of the government of the United States that an engagement occurred today (June 21) at Carrizal near Villa Ahumada, Chihuahua, between American forces numbering about 200 men with a force of our government troops, which engagement resulted in the death of several of our troops and the capture of several prisoners. There were several casualties among American troops and seventeen taken prisoners. According to the statement made by the interpreter, who was acting as guide for the American forces, the commander of the latter is responsible for the engagement."

Please make proper representations to the government and say to the secretary of state that this government finds it difficult to understand why the American troops that took part in the engagement should have been at Carrizal, a point on the line between the United States and Mexico, some distance from Ciudad Juarez, and rather far from the point which is alleged to be the point where the American troops were engaged. Further details will follow."

Word From Pershing.

San Antonio, June 22.—General Pershing reported to the department today that he had not yet received a report on the fight at Carrizal, but added on information sent to him, he had sent out two squadrons of the 10th cavalry to the Carrizal area to touch with the troops of the Carrizal area engaged yesterday by Mexican forces.

Although stationed in General Pershing's headquarters, the department headquarters at Fort Bliss, the American commander, or from any of the subordinate officers. Confidence was expressed, however, that the American version of the fight would be received in the day. Stress

HEADS OHIO GUARD

Adj. Gen. Hough.

Adjutant General Hough is at the head of the Ohio national guard. He is rapidly getting his men into shape for service at the border, and will no doubt be heard from later if war comes with Mexico.

was laid upon the fact the battle was fought approximately six miles from Colonia Dublan, General Pershing's headquarters, and that with no means of wire communication available it will take a courier some time to reach the expeditionary commander with a report.

A new version of the engagement was brought here today by a Mexican civilian, who was in Villa Ahumada yesterday afternoon and who said he assisted in dressing some of the Mexican wounded. He said General Felix Gomez, the famed Carranza leader, had been aware of the approach of Americans for twelve hours, and had sent a number of couriers to them, urging them to return to their encampment.

Mexicans Dig Pitfall. When they persisted in their advance, he said a pitfall several hundred feet in length was dug directly in the trail over which the cavalrymen must ride. This was cleverly concealed with brush. General Gomez and his troops lay concealed some hundred yards away. The horses of the American vanguard marched into the pitfall, upsetting their riders, and injuring a number of them.

Then, the Mexican asserted, the Carranza forces, lying in ambush, raked the American ranks with machine gun fire. The heavy fire forced the Americans to withdraw and reorganize their lines, and the Mexicans captured seventeen soldiers thrown into the pit.

General Gomez went forward under a flag of truce and that before a proposed parley had begun, an irresponsible soldier again started machine gun fire.

A small detachment of cavalrymen charged toward General Gomez and his party, who were in the center of a line directly between the two commands. Their pistol fire killed the Mexican leader.

Forty Americans Killed. According to the story both commands withdrew. The Mexican was unable to estimate the Mexican dead, but asserted the American dead numbered forty, his statement agreeing with the Mexican report that the American dead numbered forty. Military authorities here expressed no doubt that both commands suffered heavily in the fight, but pointed out that no information concerning the engagement other than that from Mexican sources had been received.

It was considered likely that General Pershing already has taken steps looking toward reinforcement of the already command engaged and to the swift punitive action. It was expected he would take such steps as are possible to rescue the captive Americans held subject to the order of General Trevino, commanding Carranza's army in the north.

During the night upwards of 1,000 Mexicans crossed the border from El Paso to Juarez and today the exodus continued.

U. S. Commander at Fault?

San Antonio, June 22.—General Funston's headquarters reflected early today the strain in the American-Mexican situation. The night passed without news from General Pershing, and army officers here profess to see a remaining chance that the Carranza army would be persuaded to withdraw. Although unwilling to believe that the commander of the American forces that yesterday engaged with General Trevino's men at Carrizal had taken the aggressive, Frank Funston was aroused by the suggestion that General Gomez might not have been attempting to enforce the Carranza edict by force and in was pointed out his determination to force the Americans back to their own lines was indicated by the official admission that he had sent a messenger to the commander advising him to withdraw.

General Funston spent the night in effort to learn more details of what occurred at Carrizal, but in conformity with the known attitude of the administration not to precipitate war without orders or sufficient cause, he remained steadfast in his determination not to authorize any move that would remove all doubt as to American army's future relations with that of Carranza.

Are Watching Border.

Staff officers scrutinized carefully every report that came from officers in command at border stations, for while wholly aware of the significance of Carrizal, they realized that in event of military operations on a big scale, the great problem would be in the dealing with the various big units of the Carranza army stationed within striking distances of every point of entry from Brownsville to lower California.

Baker Lacks Word.

Washington, June 22.—Secretary Baker informed President Wilson early today that there had been no reports from General Pershing on fighting between Carranza and American soldiers near Carrizal yesterday. Baker went to the white house with dispatches from General Funston giving such information had been obtained.

FEW GUARDS ARE IN CAMP IN THE EAST

TWO TROOPS OF CAVALRY AND TWO INFANTRY REGIMENTS MOBILIZED FOR ENTIRE COAST DEPARTMENT.

NO SUPPLY SHORTAGE

High Army Official is Authority For Statement That Vast Quantities of Ammunition and Supplies Are Stored at Border.

New York, June 22.—Up to this morning, Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the Department of the East, received official notice that only two troops of national guard cavalry and two regiments of infantry were mobilized in the whole department covering twenty-two states and extending from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico along the Atlantic coast.

Short of War Strength.

Commenting thereon, General Wood said the strength of a regular army reserve corps was clearly demonstrated. He added he was informed the troops in camp are only up to peace strength which meant short of war strength. He regarded it as likely the same shortage existed in all states in his department, which means all the regular army would have to recruit and drill men before they would be ready for service.

"I do not wish to imply any criticism of the national guard," said General Wood, "for the fact illustrates our utter lack of readiness to defend ourselves on short notice, should there be need. It is no surprise to me, nor should it be to anyone who has a knowledge of military affairs. It is impossible to expect businessmen to drop their work suddenly and dash off to camp."

The movement of additional regiments of New York National Guards to Camp Whitman at Beekman, N. Y., for mobilizing, site for state troops, was deferred today in compliance with orders from Major General O'Ryan, in order that the water supply at the camp should be completed before their arrival. Two regiments already are at the camp and eleven others are awaiting orders to go.

Supplies Provided For.

San Antonio, June 22.—A high army official is authority for the statement that operations in Mexico will not be delayed by lack of "the sine qua non," ammunition, he declared. He pointed out the government had taken the precaution to make large preliminary purchases as well as to increase the output of its arsenals.

ALL NIGHT ATTACKS LOSE FRENCH LINES TO GERMAN TROOPS

French Positions at Fumin Woods Near Verdun Are Lost in Last Night's Fighting.

Paris, June 22.—After violent attacks lasting all night, the Germans captured front line trenches between Fumin wood and Chenois in the Verdun sector, according to an official statement issued today by the war office.

The Germans attacked with force on both sides of the Meuse river after the usual heavy bombardment. An attack on the south slope of Deadman's hill was checked by grenade detachments, according to official statements.

On the right bank of the river there were violent engagements west and south of Fort Vaux during which the Germans gained a footing in the corner of Fumin wood, but were immediately expelled. Later they returned to the attack when some trenches were captured. A German grenade assault north of Hill 32 was stopped by the French fire.

Claim Russians Repulsed.

Berlin, June 22.—The repulse of heavy attacks by the Russians against General Count Von Bothmer's forces north of Prazvolok was announced today by the war office.

GREECE ACCEDES TO DEMANDS OF ALLIES AS CABINET QUILTS

Under Heavy Pressure of Entente Powers Greece Accepts Their Proposals Without Reserve.

Athens, June 22.—Under heavy pressure from the entente powers, Greece has accepted without reserve the demand presented today in a joint note by Great Britain, France and Russia. Premier Skouloufides late today announced to the chamber of deputies, the resignation of himself and his associates, in the cabinet and the failure for the present to obtain successors to them.

Before it became known that Greece had decided to yield it was said in government circles it would be an impossibility to accede to the demands.

Allied Fleet at Piraeus.

Paris, June 22.—An allied fleet has been ordered to cruise before Piraeus, the port of Athens, according to a Havas dispatch from Saloniki. It says the fleet eventually will be supported by a landing party.

WORKS AGAIN URGES INTERVENTION MOVE

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Discussion of the Mexican situation was precipitated in the senate today by Senator William C. Calverley, who called up his resolution to authorize intervention, had it read, and gave notice that unless the foreign relations committee acted soon, he would move to take the matter out of his hands.

RICHARDSON NAMED AS A BRIGADIER

CAPTAIN LORRAINE T. RICHARDSON U. S. A., OF JANESVILLE APPOINTED TO COMMAND WISCONSIN TROOPS BY GOVERNOR.

OFFER MADE TODAY

Is at Present United States Army Officer Detailed to the Wisconsin Guard and at Present at Camp Douglas.

Milwaukee, June 22.—Governor Emanuel L. Philipp this afternoon formally tendered the appointment of the command of the brigade of Wisconsin National Guard, now under arms at Camp Douglas, ready for foreign service, to Captain Lorraine T. Richardson, U. S. A., of Janesville.

It is expected Captain Richardson will accept the offer and will at once be relieved of his duty in connection with the Wisconsin National Guard as representative of the federal government. It is understood the former Adjutant General Noardman, for many years connected with the Wisconsin National Guard, was offered the appointment but declined.

Word has also been received from Washington announcing that Captain William Mitchell, U. S. A., of Milwaukee, son of the late United States Senator William Mitchell, will be offered a commission as colonel of a regiment of cavalry to be immediately organized in Wisconsin.

Off For Front. Washington, D. C., June 22.—The national guard organizations of Missouri, Kansas and California have been ordered to be ready to entrain at once for the Mexican border.

Camp Douglas, June 22.—Arrivals of the various detachments of the Wisconsin National Guard ordered here for mobilization purposes started early this morning. A majority of the company's are still below the war footing and an officer has been left in their home stations to promote recruiting.

WOUNDS IN BANDIT RAID PROVE FATAL

Fourth Soldier Whose Death Resulted from San Ignacio Trouble, Succumbs Today.

Laredo, Tex., June 22.—Private William J. Trost, of Troop M, fourteen cavalry, wounded when Mexican bandits attacked San Ignacio June 15, died today, bringing number of soldiers killed to four.

ORPET'S ATTORNEYS TO ASK THAT CASE BE TAKEN FROM JURY

Motion Will be Argued at Close of Prosecution's Evidence Today.

—Claim Testimony Incompetent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Waukegan, June 22.—The motion which counsel for Will H. Orpet, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, will make to have the case taken from the jury, will be based largely upon the alleged incompetency of much of the state's evidence. The motion will be made as soon as the last witness for the prosecution has been heard, probably today.

Claim Testimony Incompetent. The attorneys, Wilkerson and Polter, will move that the following be stricken from records as being incompetent and immaterial in relation to the charge of murder:

"Orpet's reported engagement to Celestia Youker.

"The presence of cyanide of potassium in ash heap, where it is alleged to have been thrown on orders of Orpet's father, four days after Marion's death.

"Testimony as to footprints in snow leading away from Marion's body."

"Testimony of the two telephone operators who said they overheard Orpet talking to Marion on the night of February 15, pleading with her to meet him that night, and saying he had something that would 'fix' her alleged condition."

"Testimony as to the three circular white spots on Marion's coat, identified by chemists as having been made by a super-saturate of potassium cyanide."

No lawyers argue that with this evidence removed the state has not proved the case and will ask the court to discharge the defendant. As to the white spots, it will be charged that they got there by a miracle, or somebody put them there. This will be based on the fact that a month elapsed before the coat was sent to a chemist for examination.

Intentions of Defense.

According to the footprints, the footprints objected to have not been identified as those of Orpet, and might have been somebody prowling about the house in the night. Nothing has been produced to show Orpet and Miss Youker were engaged. Two newspaper reporters testified yesterday that Orpet admitted to them his arrest that they were "practically" engaged. Miss Youker has been in Waukegan lately, but it was reported that she was not to be placed on the stand to testify, as to her reported engagement.

Just before court convened, State's Attorney Dady stated Miss Youker would not be called. He gave no explanation.

An hour and a half was consumed arguing the matter in which translations of certain French expressions in Orpet's letters to Marion should be presented to the jury.

Translates French Phrases.

A. F. Beaubien was sworn and made the translations.

Some of them as translated into English read:

"I love you."

"My only sweetheart," and other simple phrases.

The words were scattered frequently throughout the letter of Orpet to Marion. The last of the state's phrases and it was said Mr. Dady would close his case with the reading of Orpet's letters this afternoon.

KAISER SENDS NOTE TO KING ALPHONSO

German Submarine Arriving at Cartagena Carries Special Messenger to Spanish King.

Madrid, June 22.—A German submarine arrived today at Cartagena. The officers disembarked and sent for King Alfonso with a confidential letter for King Alfonso. The submarine is anchored alongside the Spanish cruiser Catalonia. The secretary of the German embassy at Madrid has left for Cartagena to receive an autograph from the German emperor for King Alfonso, supposed to be thanks for a reception given interned Germans from Kamerun.

The secretary of the press which favors the German side in the war, publishes an article today eulogizing the German soldiers for their naval exploits. The submarine came from Pola, the Austrian naval base.

STRICKERS IN RIOT WITH POLICE SQUAD

One Killed and Two Wounded When Police and I. W. W. Men Engage in Battle.

Virginia, Minn., June 22.—One man was killed and two wounded in a fight here this morning between a squad of special police and crowd of I. W. W. strikers, who were on their way to picket a mine of Oliver Iron Mining company. More than fifty shots were fired, some of them by a woman armed with a repeating rifle who stood on porch of a miners house, and fired at random. Differences between the county officials and the special police are hampering the control of the idle men in city.

RUMOR GREGORY IS CHOICE FOR JUDGE

President's Supporters Declare Attorney General Gregory to Be Nominated to Succeed Hughes.

Washington, June 22.—The nomination of Attorney General Gregory to succeed Charles E. Hughes on the supreme court bench, was said today by persons in President Wilson's confidence, to have been virtually decided upon.

Senator Lewis today recommended Governor Edward D. Dineen of Illinois, who formerly served on the Illinois circuit court.

MANY READY TO JOIN IN NEW GUARDS

PROCLAMATION ISSUED

Calls Attention to the Fact This is An Opportunity to Have a National Guard Unit Established in Janesville.

To the Citizens of Janesville: "In the spirit of preparedness and with a fond hope that the actual and active use for a militia may never be realized by our people, I take this time of calling the attention of the people of this community to the opportunity presented us at this particular time to secure to ourselves, in the near future, a unit of the Wisconsin national guard."

"In the past Janesville has had the honor of having supported one of the best militia companies in the state, which, through circumstances beyond our control, it was abandoned. It now seems a most favorable opportunity to organize a military company which would become an active, instructive and interesting institution of this community upon application to the proper state authorities."

"Papers are now in the hands of the city clerk, and individuals who are active in promoting such a company by application to the governor, and I beg leave to call attention to this fact and urge the young men interested in the formation of a military unit here to sign their names to the applications."

JAMES A. FATHERS, Mayor of the City of Janesville.

The above proclamation by Mayor Fathers calls particularly attention to the proposed organization of a company of militia in Janesville to become a unit of the Wisconsin national guard. The papers, which need five signatures, are in the hands of the city clerk, Mr. Hannamund, at the city hall. George Sherman, Fred Rau, Jr., Sixty-five signatures are needed to make formal application for recognition and Janesville has been assured a company if the required number of names are secured.

Up to noon today a goodly number of young men had signed the list and there is every expectation that the total number required will have significant numbers and it was said Mr. Dady would close his case with the reading of Orpet's letters this afternoon.

LONE MEXICAN FIRES ON U. S. SOLDIERS

Half Breed Employed as Guard at Naco, Ariz., Water Works Kills Private of Co. 1, 14th Regiment.

Naco, Arizona, June 22.—One American soldier was killed and three others injured here early today when Wm. Humphrey a half breed Mexican employed as guard at the water works opened fire upon members of Co. E, 14th U. S. Infantry as the guard was being changed.

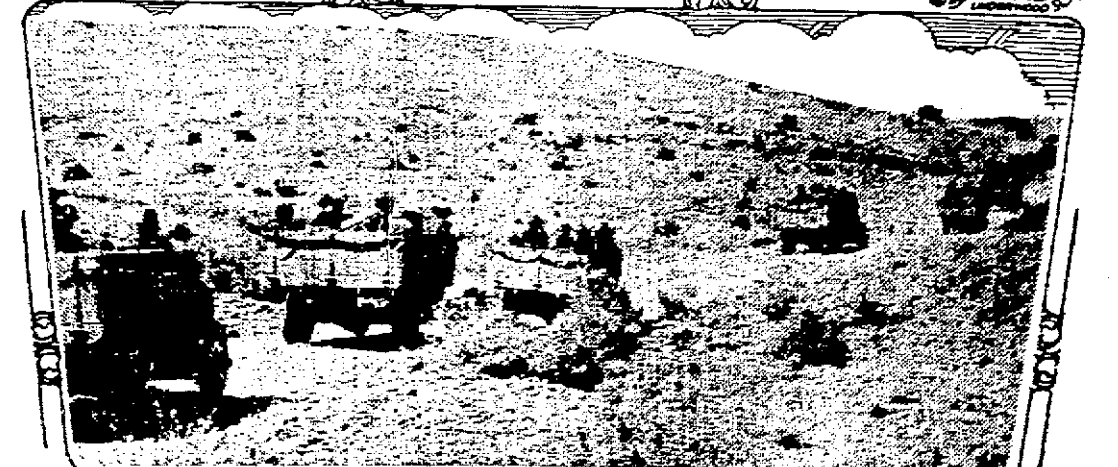

The sergeant in charge of guard was one of three injured. He was shot in the back. Another soldier was shot through the neck and a third wounded in the hip. The soldiers were standing within fifty feet of water plant when Humphrey opened fire. He was overpowered and taken into custody. An inquest will be held today. A large number of Mexican refugees were crossing the line into Mexico today from Laby and Lowell districts.

American Prospector Killed. Douglas, Ariz., June 22.—Jim Parks, an old prospector was killed, and Norton Hand, an American mining man was taken into custody and was in danger of being executed by the Mexican authorities, as result of a fight with a number of Mexicans yesterday, twelve miles west of Campus, according to information brought here today by American refugees.

United States military authorities sent representations to General Calles urging immediate steps to insure the safety of Hand.

In the encounter with Mexicans yesterday two Mexicans were said to have been killed, and a number wounded.

U. S. army motor truck transports en route for American camp in Mexico. Scores of motor trucks are in service along the 280-mile American line south of Columbus, N. M., rushing rifles, ammunition and food supplies to General Pershing's army of 15,000 well seasoned men. There has been some apprehension lest this long line of communication be cut off, and the line is being constantly strengthened as the Mexican menace grows more grave.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:
I noticed a communication in your paper last evening signed by
"One Who Knows" with reference to the pick up service for certain trains which the Wells Fargo Express Company has discontinued for a time,
but afterwards resumed on complaint
being made to the State Railroad commission.

The party who signs the article in last evening's paper, if he knows does not state all the facts in the case, and leaves the impression that the two bakeries here are wholly responsible for their men having to work overtime.

The facts in the matter are these:
For many years past the Wells Fargo
Express Co. and before that the U. S.
Express have maintained a pick up service here, picking up bread as well as other shipments for trains leaving here at 7:20 and 7:25 A. M. Some time ago they notified the bakeries here that beginning May 15th they would discontinue this service, thus arbitrarily raising the rates to certain points to which it is necessary to ship on these trains.

The increased cost of hauling our shipments to the depot would have amounted to $150.00 per year, and we appealed to the Railroad Commission.
We maintained by discontinuing the service they had increased the rates
as their published tariffs includes pick up service.

When notified by the commission that a hearing would be held they voluntarily resumed the service.
The matter of their men working long hours and overtime is a matter wholly between the express people and their employees and shippers and cannot be blamed for insisting on what belongs to them.

ASSEMBLE FLOATS
FOR 4TH OF JULY
AT RINK BUILDING

Parades Committee Has Opened Auditorium and Work Has Started.— Boy Carpenters Are Needed.
The rink building this morning assumed the appearance of the remodeling shops at the winter headquarters of a big circus. Parade wagons of floats and even the tank for the mer-
every description, cages, band wagons, mail have been assembled there. In addition there are large piles of supplies ready for assembling in gorgeous shapes and contraptions.

It all has to do with the None Such Bros. circus parade and the preparedness and torchlight procession to be held on the afternoon and evening of the Fourth of July, which Janesville celebrates with fitting observances a week from Tuesday. Committees in charge of the two big features report much enthusiasm on every hand and say that the spirit demonstrated thus early is indicative of the success of the parades and the celebration as a whole.

Chairman Edward Amerpohl this morning issued a call to manual training students of the high school who could spare a little time daily. Mr.
Amerpohl wants these boys to help build the floats and other carpentry work essential to the parades. They can go to the rink building either before or after school and find him at work there. Others are doing to help arrange the wagon decorations may also go to the Auditorium. There is still a great amount of work to be done on the floats and the committee sooner that this is finished the more opportunity the committee will have to secure additional features and work up these new stunts. Horse and team owners are being urged to use of their animals and while the committee has not really enough just now it is assured that a number to take care of every body who cares to enter either parade will be possible.

Simultaneous with Mr. Amerpohl's
call for carpenters, Joseph Burns,
a member of the parades committee
and head of the Wild West division,
sent out an appeal for more cowboys,
cowgirls, Mexicans, Indians, Japs, Chinks, South Africans, wild men from Borneo, cannibals and all their trappings.
Those having costumes, saddles and a horse are requested to notify either Mr. Burns, Mr. Amerpohl or Peter V. Kuhn at the Janesville Commercial club. Mr. Burns at the meeting of the committee Monday night reported that he had almost double the number over two years ago in his division so far that he was planning to secure even more than what he had thus far.

Outside suggestions of stunts and features are not coming in very rapidly and persons having ideas are urged to get in touch with a member of the committee and make known their plans. Some mighty good features have been procured in past years in this manner and full consideration of any suggestion will be given by the committee. They have made a long list of features among themselves and these are being worked up at the present time. More can be handled if they are only brought to their attention.

WILL INSPECT NEW LIGHT POSTS ON STREETS TODAY.

New lighting standards in the same condition as they left the city. They were distributed on the east side on the order of the board of public works to be inspected on the streets before they are installed. The posts will be painted as soon as wired. So far the board members expressed satisfaction at the condition of the posts.

BUILDING ORDINANCE VIOLATION CHARGED

Chief Klein Enters Complaints Against Pappas Store, West Milwaukee
Street, and Fred Wilbur.

Complaints were made by H. C.
Klein, chief engineer of the fire department, for alleged violations of the building ordinances, to Mayor Fathens
this morning. The notices were issued with City Clerk J. P. Hammarlund and it was said warrants would be issued from the court this afternoon or Friday morning, when Judge H. L. Maxfield is expected to return from Madison, where he has been during the last two days.

Chief Klein calls the official's attention to the fact that Mr. Pappas, who runs a small store near the corner of Milwaukee and Academy streets, changed the structural parts of the building without a proper and required permit. It is said that Pappas built a brick wall in accordance with the ordinance, but that the wall was erected on property that was not his own. He was told to move the wall. It is alleged that the store owner put up the brick wall before tearing down the brick structure.

The other complaint is against Fred Wilbur, whom Chief Klein charged with violating the building ordinance
by the chief of police for violations of the ordinance requiring the licensing of dogs. The police are awaiting the return of the magistrate before serving these warrants for violations.
Chief Champion stated this morning that the complaints were against persons who failed to buy license tags for last year, and so far they have refused to purchase this year's license tags.
Since June first the licenses have been issued very slowly. To date there have been only two hundred and sixty tags issued by the city clerk,
while during the same period a year ago, there were over four hundred issued. An active police campaign to enforce the ordinance may be ordered by the officials to have the legislation uniformly enforced.

PICNIC PARTY IN PARK LANDS TWO MEN AND WOMAN
IN COURT THIS MORNING

Patrick "Paddy" Miller, Otto Lentz
and Mrs. Eliza Hefty were arraigned before Judge Charles Lange in the municipal court this morning. Judge Maxfield being absent. The two were arrested Wednesday between twelve and one o'clock for having too noisy
a picnic party down in the fourth ward park.

Patrick Miller denied being drunk or that he was a vagrant, and Mrs. Hefty also indignantly claimed that she was sober and also that she was not in the vagrant class. Their cases were set for next Tuesday, the 27th, and in default of two hundred dollars bail,
were committed to the county jail.

Otto Lentz walked up to the bench and entered a plea of guilty to the intoxication complaint. He received ten days and forty additional days in default of a twenty-five dollars fine. Mrs.
Hefty claimed she was bringing dinner to "Paddy" when arrested.

RECRUITING OFFICE
FOR REGULAR ARMY
TO BE OPENED HERE

Corporal Arthur A. Peters, U. S. A.,
Will Be in Charge of Headquarters at Postoffice.

Corporal Arthur A. Peters, U. S. A.,
arrived in Janesville today from Chicago for the purpose of opening and recruiting office for the regular army.
Quarters will be fitted up at the federal building and Corporal Peters will be able to receive applicants by tomorrow. Men between the ages of 18 and 35 years, who can pass the physical requirements are eligible for service.

Go into Training at Once.
Men who are recruited at the Janesville office will be sent to Chicago,
where the central headquarters are located, and from there they will be taken to the training barracks near St. Louis. The training period will not be less than thirty days and nor more than forty-five. New recruits are assigned to a regiment. The term of enlistment is for seven years, four of which is for service and three for which is for the reserve. In case of war the reserve is called for after the national guard is called out.

The recruiting office will be located at the Janesville postoffice, and the territory from which recruits will be enlisted will be within a radius of twenty or twenty-five miles, thus including a large area in southern Wisconsin.

Corporal Peters will have his office equipment, blanks and supplies installed at the Janesville office within a few days. Meanwhile any young men who are anxious to see activity along the Mexican border may communicate with him at the postoffice. It will be the regular army troops that will go into Mexico in case additional troops will be needed in the present trouble.
The state militia will be used for border
patrol duty for the present.

Hold Gunmen's Positions Open.
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway employees who volunteer for war service will be able to leave their regular jobs when they return. The substance of a bulletin received this morning by Janesville officials of the company, it read:

"Please see that this is made known to every guardsman."
The bulletin was signed by N. P.
Tauber, assistant superintendent. At the depot it was construed to mean that employees not at present members of any military organization, but who wished to join, would be included.

Alva Hemmens, local agent of the Northwestern railway, stated that although to date he had received no information on the matter, it would in fact be the policy of the company to accord its employees treatment similar to the Milwaukee road.

Subway Development.

The first "subways" were cuts for pipes and wires, large enough for a man to walk in, and supplied with inspection openings. These were installed in Paris by Napoleon III. The Chicago street traffic subways were first built in 1866-71. But in our general modern acceptance of the word
the first "subways" were those of the deep underground steam railway of London, built in 1825. The first "real subway" in the United States was that in Boston, 1897.

ROBERT CUNNINGHAM
WINS JUBILEE MEDAL

Secures High Honor on Thesis Which Also Won the Harris Political Science Prize.

Robert J. Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cunningham, who was graduated with special honors from the University of Wisconsin this week,
was awarded the Jubilee Medal given by the university for the best thesis in the department of History, Political and Social Science. The honor was conferred upon Cunningham when President Van Hise presented the medal at the commencement exercises on Wednesday.

The Jubilee medal is the second recognition of merit granted to Cunningham's thesis on "The Organization of Juries in Wisconsin." The first one being the award of the Harris Political Science prize of $250 in a contest open to all the state universities and colleges in the middle western states.
The Jubilee medal is considered a very high honor as the contest is open to all theses written in three large departments of the university.

Cunningham's work in the university has been of a very high grade and his graduation marks the end of a very successful four years.

A telephone message received this morning from Cunningham at Madison stated that he had also been awarded the Bryan Political Science prize of $25.

MISS STELLA HELL
WEDDED LAST NIGHT

United in Marriage to William Perleberg at Seven-Thirty Wednesday Evening at St. Paul's Church.
St. Paul's German Lutheran church was filled to capacity last evening for the wedding of Miss Stella Hell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hell, and William Perleberg, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Gottlieb Perleberg. The Reverend J.
A. L. Treudorf, married the couple at seven-thirty o'clock.

The bridesmaids were Miss Gertrude Hell, sister of the bride, and Miss Bertha Perleberg, sister of the groom.
Herman Perleberg, brother of the groom, and Edward Hell, cousin of the bride, were the groom's attendants.
The bride wore a charming gown of dotted net with pale blue trimming.
She wore a crown veil with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried an arm bouquet of carnations and lilies
of the valley.

After the ceremony a three-course wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, at 360 Western avenue, after which the evening was spent at dancing. The home was beautifully decorated with pink and orange summer flowers.

Those from out of town who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. William Beyer, Postville; Mr. and Mrs. Groves, Rockford; Mrs. Fred
Rau, Watertown; Harold Schlueter,
Madison; and Ed. Bowles, Postville.
The bride of last evening is a young woman of charm who enjoys the regard of many friends. The groom is employed as a cigarmaker at the J.
Stern establishment. They will reside in this city.

Wise Practice of the Incas.

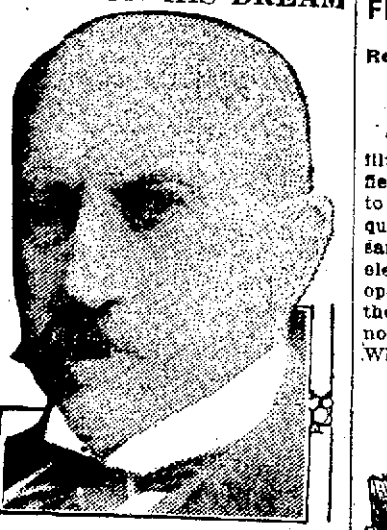

The Incas, ancient rulers of Peru,
were one of the earliest authentic examples of the high eugenic development of the human race. Their system of choosing each year the finest physical specimens of young womanhood from all classes to become "brides of the sun," or wives of the ruler, having quite an opposite effect to that of the limited and unfortunate matrimonial customs of present day royalty.

Mankind's Three Lives.

"A man lives three lives—youth,
manhood and age," philosophically stated Professor Pate. "Youth is the rising sun of life, when he thinks of what a heck of a feller he is going to be; manhood is the sun at full meridian, when he is satisfied that he is indeed a heck of a feller; age is the setting sun, when he sags around and brags about what a heck of a feller he used to be."—Judge.

Not Quite.

—He—"That scene quite took my breath away." She (tartly).—"Well, you had it with you when you came back after the act."

FEED SALT TO LIVE STOCK
Receptacle Shown in the Illustration
Is Designed for Use Either in Field or Corral.
The salt receptacle shown in the illustration is designed for use in a field or corral. It affords free access to the stock for obtaining the requisite amount of salt, and at the same time protects the salt from the elements and prevents waste. The opening is protected by a hood which the animal shoves open by putting his nose under it and lifting upward.
When the nose is withdrawn from the opening thus made, the hood drops down again by its own weight. A sufficient opening is always left to expose the salt and attract the stock.

Japanese Courtesy.
An officer in a western reserve bank
recently got a package from a Japanese firm and with it the following terse information. "We sorry that we cannot prepay duty, for which please accept, though if we could do so without very much trouble and was time on mutual part we did so," all which may be somewhat politely jumbled, though here's a venture that he had no trouble understanding that phrase, "for which please accept."

Spell of Samoa.
Samoa, when he first saw the islands, appeared to Stevenson far less beautiful than the Marquesas or Tahiti. He was not specially attracted by the people, except for their cur-tesy. Yet the island grew upon his fancy so quickly that in less than a month from his first sight of the harbor of Apia he decided to make his home in Samoa.

FEWER ACCIDENTS REPORTED ON RAILROADS LAST WEEK

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, Wis., June 22.—Accidents on the railroads were fewer last week, according to the reports filed with the Wisconsin railroad commission, than they have been for some time. A Northwestern train killed a section laborer at Hortonville and another section laborer was badly injured when the motor car of the St. Paul road was derailed near Brownstown. Tom Gibbons, a trespasser, was killed while trying to steal a ride on the Omaha road east of Eau Claire, and two people were injured when train No. 63 struck an automobile on Winter street, Superior, injuring two people. Nine cars on the St. Paul road were derailed six miles east of Gratiot.

If You Wish Up-to-date Dentistry

You will get the very latest approved service in my office.

I believe few dentists in the United States are any better equipped, or are doing more advanced work.

I am laboring also to keep my fees down where people can pay them. Although I confess it's up-hill work, in face of the increased costs of everything a dentist has to buy.

PROGRESSIVES PLAN TO ENDORSE HUGHES IN PLATFORM PLANK

Program of Today's Conference Includes Pledge of Support For Republican Candidate For President.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Madison, Wis., June 22.—The progressive conference which gathers here this afternoon plans on adopting a platform. Conferences were held by some of the leading delegates last night and many of the proposed planks were talked over. It is said that some of the ideas which will be embodied in the platform are:

Endorsement of the candidacy of Charles E. Hughes for president, citing his record as a progressive governor of New York, his attacks on the insurance combine and the race track men, with an endorsement of his record as a supreme court judge.

Review of the accomplishments of the progressive administration of the state during the last decade; primary election law, corrupt practice act, workmen's compensation act, legislation in favor of the rural schools, anti-pass legislation, health laws, pure food legislation, etc.

Declaration in favor of improving the methods of marketing. The plan of a marketing commission has been discussed by some as a probable plank and others favor clothing the department of agriculture with additional powers.

There will be a labor plank that will cite all of the accomplishments of progressive legislation in favor of labor.

In spite of talk to the contrary many of the former followers of Governor McGovern are taking an active part in the conference here. Former Senator E. F. Killeen is one of the men who have been doing considerable work on the platform. The same is true of Senator A. W. Sanborn of Ashland.

One of the strongest planks will be for harmony. It will point out that only by a united front can the progressive organizations of the state be enlarged. It is said that W. S. Goodland of Racine is the father of such a plank which is to go to the resolutions committee.

Although Ex-Governor McGovern returned to Milwaukee this forenoon his friends are still active here in his behalf. His closest advisers said that his parting words were he would be a candidate regardless whether the conference named another man or not.

Though W. H. Hutton of New London has a large following, it seems apparent that bulk of strength is that of A. W. Sanborn of Ashland. Indications prior to the meeting were that he will be named.

Merlin Hull of Black River Falls seems to be the favorite for secretary of state.

A. T. Torze, Madison, is also a candidate for secretary of state, but his following seems small.

For state treasury Sol Levitan, Madison, is running a neck and neck race with Alvin Peterson of Soldiers Grove.

John Klawnska, Milwaukee, is prominently mentioned for lieutenant governor. Walter C. Owen, present attorney general, will probably be retained.

DRUMMERS WANTED

All Boys in the City Who Own Drums or Cornets or Bugles Urged to Attend Meeting Tonight.

All boys in the city over twelve years of age who own drums or bugles or cornets are invited to meet at the library room in the Gazette office this Thursday evening with their instruments at seven-thirty for the purpose of organizing a drum and bugle corps. Pipers are given as well and instruction will be given in both playing and marching. Aside from the coming Fourth of July celebration there will be many occasions for the use of such an organization during the coming political campaign and it is planned to organize a permanent corps to be ready to furnish music when desired.

PLEASING RECITAL IS GIVEN AT HALL

Pupils of E. Josephine Fitzgerald in Excellent Program at Terpsichorean Hall.

The entertainment given by the pupils of E. Josephine Fitzgerald at the Terpsichorean hall last evening proved a wonderful success. The hall was filled to its capacity, with a large and pleased audience.

Every one rendered the highest praise of the excellent program that was presented by the pupils of Miss Fitzgerald. The hall was tastefully decorated with flowers and plants, serving as a setting for the program. The evening's entertainment consisted of folk dances, readings, and different marches. Thirty-four students took part.

The readings given held very attentive audiences. Miss Laura Mathewson of Beloit, who has won a number of medals in contests throughout the state, rendered the selection, "His Little Lady." The dances were effective and the whole program was very pleasing.

U. B. CHURCH SCENE OF C. E. CONVENTION

U. B. Christian Endeavor Societies Holding Annual Meeting at Local Church.

The convention of the Young People's society of Christian Endeavor, Wisconsin branch of the United Brethren church, opened June 20, at the U. B. church corner Milwaukee and Prospect avenues. About fifty members are in attendance.

The goal for the coming year is ten new C. E. societies, two hundred and fifty new members. The motto is: "We can if we will; we must if we can, and we will. Theme: Trained for service."

Tuesday afternoon the delegates were enrolled and assigned to their homes. Supper was served in the dining room and a social hour enjoyed.

The evening service was opened by an anthem by the Janesville U. B. choir followed by an address of welcome by the president of the local society, Miss Lottie Skinner. The response was given by Guy Kintz.

Professor W. A. Webber gave the address of the evening.

Wednesday morning Rev. L. E. Strickland of Lloyd, Wis., gave a talk about the great future of the world and its importance and suggested several good ways for bible study.

Rev. C. V. Mullen addressed the convention, with responsibility for the future of the world. He gave an instructive talk on "The B. C. of Christian Endeavor," illustrated with black board outline. The following companies were appointed:

Finance—Rev. Geo. Bennett, chairman. Auditing—Rev. F. L. Brock, chairman.

Nominating—Eva Robinson, chairman. Finance—Rev. F. L. Brock, chairman. Press Reporters—Nellie Skinner, Carroll Whaley.

After the treasurer gave his report a letter from Elsie Hall the general secretary of Otterbein Guild was read.

Wednesday Afternoon. Devotions—Rev. F. L. Brock. Rev. E. L. Smith of Lima gave an address, "What Belongs to the United Brethren Church," in which he gave two reasons, first he believes in it; second, it has a mission.

Professor Webber gave an inspiring talk, illustrated with black board outline, "Secrets of Success." He exhorted the officers to be faithful and each member to do his part. He gave an ideal working schedule and the social side, the great importance of the social side. Miss Ruth Roberts sang a solo, "For a Little Bit of Love."

Miss Mabel Drury, a missionary returning from China, gave a short talk. Rev. Emerson fully explained the C. E. efficiency chart.

After the opening exercises Florence and Pigeon Roberts told "Why We Attend Church." The bishop gave a talk on the importance of a college education and urged advantages of the Leander Clark.

Thursday morning was devoted to the exercises of the Juniors. An address by Professor Ross Masters and election of officers.

NO SHORTAGE IN SUPPLIES FOR TROOPS AT BORDER.

supplies are already in storage at Mexico and points near the border. These are considered sufficient to start the regular army and organized militia in the general campaign, and sources of replenishment of supplies are open.

Dismantle Wireless Station. Dismantling of the Mexican wireless station, was accomplished at noon, while the Carranza barracks just across the street from famous old Jaurez Mission was stripped of all soldiers left for south this afternoon.

JANESVILLE, WIS.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THIS COMMUNITY

We want you to distinctly understand that this is a genuine close out sale, and we are retiring from the mercantile business in Janesville, and we wish to thank you for your past patronage. We have disposed of our lease and the store must be vacated in thirty days, so we have decided to dispose of this high grade and trustworthy stock at wholesale cost to the people who have served us in the past, giving them the advantage of the rising price of merchandise. We have gone over this entire stock and remarked every item, leaving the original price ticket attached so you can readily see the immense saving.

It has never been the policy of this store to describe its merchandise or prices in lurid language. We have always had too much respect for the common sense of the people on whom we depend for our patronage, nor will
it be tolerated during this monster closing out sale.
When we advertise an article it will be backed up by the real honest merchandise, and we will assure you that every assertion made on this poster will be carried out to the very letter.

This selling will start promptly at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning, June the 24th, rain or shine, so if you are heeding all lessons on preparedness you can do no wiser thing than attend this sale, for every article in this big store is to be disposed of at some price in the next thirty days.

We urge you to read every word of this poster thoroughly, compare our prices with any mail order house
our sale prices heretofore offered and then judge for yourself.

PRAIRIE IS SCENE OF BIG ACTIVITIES

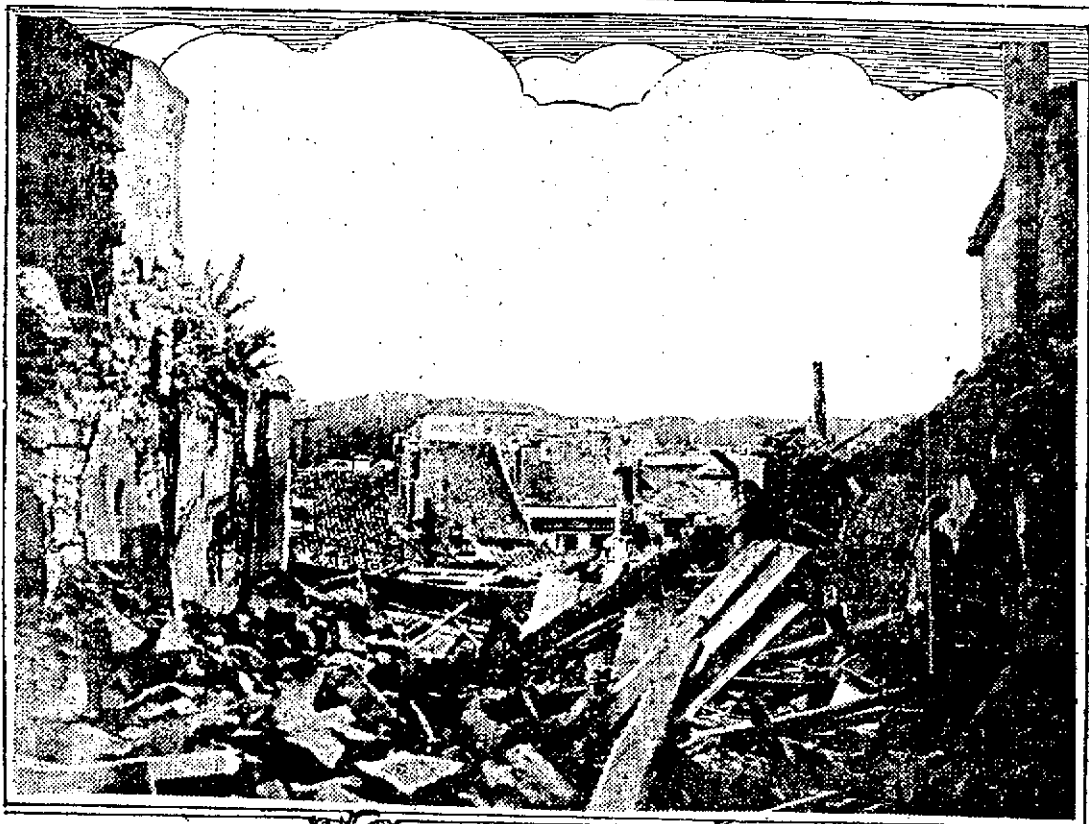

Annual Celebration at Rock Prairie Yesterday Great Success—Shoppers to Have Field Day.

Rock Prairie's second annual community field day yesterday was by far the best and largest celebration ever held in that section of Rock county. People from all parts of the county were present and fully one hundred and fifty from Janesville went out to the Prairie during the day. Twenty-five automobiles were busy taking people to and from the scene of activities. The weather was ideal for the outdoor sports and the hundreds of people on the grounds thoroughly enjoyed themselves during the day.

The baseball game in the afternoon between the Rock Prairie and Emerald Grove Y. M. C. A. groups ended 13 to 4 in favor of the Rock Prairie nine. The one-sided score does not mean that the game was not interesting, as the Emerald Grove boys certainly put on a good game. The city men proved to be better in volleyball as they won from the country men in two games out of three. Although the farmers lost the volleyball game they came back strong in the other events and showed the city folks a few things. In the tug-of-war contest with the city men they easily won. They also won the relay race. The city girls won from the farmer girls in the three volleyball contests.

The Prairie Y. M. C. A. group served refreshments on the grounds after the game and the money gained will go to the group's treasury. So great a success was the Rock Prairie field day celebration that Shopleire is now making plans to have one at their community center on July 12th. R. K. Overton and D. M. Spicer of that place were present yesterday getting ideas and making arrangements for the celebration. A committee of Shopleire residents will be organized in the near future and work will be started right away in making it a successful event.

HARDLY A HOUSE REMAINS STANDING IN THE CITY OF VERDUN

The French city of Verdun, which for almost three months has been the objective of a terrific German drive, is today a mass of ruins. Hardly a house remains untouched. In the middle background of the picture is the cathedral, which has been considerably damaged by German shells. This old pile dates back to the 11th and 12th centuries.

WHITEWATER COMPANY C LEAVES FOR CAMP DOUGLAS.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Whitewater, June 21.—Company C left this morning at 6:30 o'clock for Camp Douglas by way of Brookfield. Many of the boys spent the night in the army, but some of them were at home, but had to answer roll call at 5 a. m. The people of the city were aroused from their slumbers about that time by the discharge of two cannons which were fired at intervals of three to five minutes. It did not take long before crowds gathered at the armory and the streets and park about the depot were filled. The local band played patriotic music and led the procession to the train. Here the company was bled up and were given permission to say good bye to their relatives and friends. Then the order came for them to get on the train and were given a rousing send off. Quite a number were let out of the company yesterday on account of disability. First Lieutenant Otto Renemo is recruiting officer. About seventy-five men were in the company.

Mark Calkins of Richmond and Miss Irene Smith, formerly of Milwaukee, were married Wednesday, June 21st at the home of Mr. Calkins. Fifty guests witnessed the ceremony which was presided over by Rev. Missall. The double ring service was used. Miss Smith wore a white tulle gown, tulle veil, with orange blossoms and carried roses and white sweet peas. With a traveling suit of blue tulle. Clifford Smith brother of the bride was best man, Miss Gladys Calkins, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Little Mary Dike of Johnston Center niece of Mr. Calkins acted as ring bearer. Miss Florence Hull played the wedding march.

Miss Smith is well known in Whitewater as she attended Normal school here for two years and has since taught at Otter's Corners. Mr. and Mrs. Calkins left for a visit in Indiana.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Lidens, George Crumb and mother and Miss Margaret Winch from here.

The occasion was also the tenth wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Dike. Mrs. Dike being a sister of the groom.

Mrs. H. C. Brown left this morning for Alberton, Montana, to spend most of the summer with her son, Howard and family.

Whitewater plays East Troy at the Delavan home-coming today.

SHEBOYGAN FALLS CO. FIGHTS CITY PURCHASE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, Wis., June 22.—The Falls Light and Power company of Sheboygan Falls has started an action in the circuit court of Dane county to set aside the order of the railroad commission fixing the value of the Sheboygan Falls plant for municipal purchase. The claim is made that more than half of the plant has been purchased by the city. The Green Bay and Eastern Railway company has filed an application to build seventy miles of road in Sheboygan county. Hearing is fixed for July 7.

Overindulgence in Hope.

Used with due abstinence, hope acts as a healthful tonic; intemperately indulged, as an enervating opiate. The visions of future triumph, which at first animate exertion, which upon too intensly, will usurp the place of the stern reality; and noble objects will be contemplated, not for their own inherent worth, but on account of the day dreams they engender. Thus hope, aided by imagination, makes one man a hero, another a somnambulist and a third a lunatic, and all enthusiasts.—Stephen.

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

BY DAISY DEAN

Harry Morey is an actor endowed with the rarest of histrionic talents. He is equally good in heavy parts as he is in light, and as good in tragedy as he is in comedy.

All his portrayals are virile and strong and this high powered ability to register these varied moods and feelings is transmitted just as strongly to the audience on the other side of the screen.

He has played in vaudeville, musical comedy, drama and moving pictures. He has been with Anna Held in "The Little Duchess," Weber and Fields, and with Louise Gunning in "Miracles." With Cohen and Harris he played in "The Honeymooners," and with Montgomery and Stone in "The Wizard of Oz."

As a crowning honor to his ability he was chosen to play the lead opposite Edna Mayo in "Salvation John" in "For a Woman's Fair Name," "The Law Decides," "A Price for Folly," and the special Edna Mayo feature, his portrayals are essentially dramatic.

"THE LOVE COMET"

AN AERIAL FILM. The story in which the couple elope in an airship, and are sighted by the girl's father, an astronomer, has been named "The Love Comet." The couple have numerous adventures in the air, including the picking up of a negro minister, and later throwing him overboard when he alights in whitewash. Walter Wright was the director of the Bennett comedy, and the principal players are Ora Carow, Joseph Belmont, William Callahan and Frank Hayes.

Lillian and Dorothy Gish are both possessed of literary inclinations, and their favorite pastime is reading poetry. Their best loved poet at present is Robert Burns, whose works says the press agent, are original, full of rhythm, and of delicious color. Which isn't at all bad for a mere peasant agent.

Violet Horner, movie beauty, announces that she has discovered what she is pleased to describe as a modern living Blue-Beard. This was at Ellis Island. He was an original, fellow immigrants, natural comedians, had told him that men with gray beards were not admitted to the United States. He had a white beard, a credulous disposition and an indelible pencil. The result is described by Miss Horner.

Mac Murray, star, has two maids, one for her house and the other for the studio, also a chauffeur and a cook. She is simple and domestic in her routine and aside from the help given by these four she does all her work herself.

situations of correction. Miss Mersereau in the character of Peggy is translated from the slums to a home of luxury, where her character receives the direct application of corrective methods that, ultimately, show the "great experiment" to be an entire success.

Amusements

(Notices furnished by the theatres.)

AT THE APOLLO.

Kitty Gordon Tonight in "Her Maternal Right."

Jack Treuday, a bank teller, infatuated with an actress, lavished the funds of his bank upon her. She turned him down, but the worry of the shortage of his books was paralyzing in his mind. When he married a good woman, and she learned of his predicament, his wife made the money he had lavished on her actress. She succeeded in doing this by means of an interesting story which is told in five strong parts in the World Film feature, "Her Maternal Right," with Kitty Gordon playing her best characterization ever seen on the screen. "Her Maternal Right" will be the attraction at the Apollo theater tonight.

AT THE APOLLO.

"Pudd'nhead Wilson" on Friday. The courtroom scene used for the famous trial in Mark Twain's undying story, "Pudd'nhead Wilson," which will be at the Apollo on Friday, under the direction of the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play company, with Theodore Roberts in the title role, is an exact reproduction of the courtroom in the old courthouse at Pabmya, Missouri. This was reproduced from before the war, sketches made before the old building was destroyed. When the author placed his famous trial, the courtroom looked exactly like the one Mark Twain described in his notes concerning "Pudd'nhead Wilson." The paintings shown on the wall are borrowed from another old Missouri courtroom especially for the taking of the picture.

AT BEVERLY THEATER.

Lillian Walker in "Green Stockings" tonight. In "Green Stockings," at the Beverly tonight, the Vitaphone company has produced a five-part Blue Ribbon feature which is destined to take its place among the greatest comedies yet produced. Lillian Walker is seen to the advantage first as the "old" who blossoms forth into the beautiful and attractive girl she is. The cast is an all-star one and the acting and photography leaves nothing to be desired.

The story of "Green Stockings" is replete with humor and appealing situations, well portrayed by the capable Vitaphone cast of actresses. It is a comedy of exceptional quality and its subtle humor makes it one of the best comedies that has yet been filmed. It is doubly attractive in its enactment because the leading characters are portrayed by such distinguished players as Lillian Walker, Louise Beaudet, Frank Currier, Adele DeGarde, Lillian Burns, Charles Wesley, Denton Vane, John T. Kelly and Charles Brown.

AT BEVERLY THEATER.

Violet Mersereau in "The Great Problem." The reformers will have their day in Bluebird photoplays when "The Great Problem" is exhibited at the Beverly theater on Friday with Violet Mersereau playing the role of a graduate pickpocket, direct from the slums and steeped in crime. While this is a

MARY PICKFORD PLAYS REFORMER

"The Eternal Grind" Gives This Film Favorite a New Role.

To many "The Eternal Grind" is the better liked of the Mary Pickford features. In it she portrays an older and more mature role than usual; but withal she is a delectable little spit fire as well as a wishful, overburdened little sister. She brought many chuckles of good humor from the Apollo audience yesterday. "The Eternal Grind" is a sugar coated tale of life seeking humanity struggling under the crush of smothering industrial demands with rents of realism in it that make it strong, if less beautiful, and give it, for all its film theatricalism, a humanness that hurts.

How It Happened. "How did you happen to vote for prohibition?" "I did it 'cause I got the general state of grouch," replied Broncho Bob. "Everybody in Crimson Gulch got sort o' huffy with everybody else an' we seem to get some kind o' satisfaction out o' standin' around an' seein' one another suffer."

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—The News Must Be Startling, to Say the Least.

BY F. LEIPZIGER

New Discovery Stops Dandruff

"Vola-Vita," Great Hair Discovery.

Vola-Vita is the new hair surprise to millions. To eradicate dandruff has been a battle for decades. The new, scientific hair discovery, Vola-Vita, actually stops it. There is only one way to eradicate dandruff, and that is to kill the dandruff germ.

Vola-Vita kills the dandruff germ quickly and thoroughly. It has been a common occurrence for Vola-Vita in only a few weeks' time to eradicate dandruff in cases so severe that the scalp was one mass of scaly crusts, falling like a snow-storm when the hair would be disheveled with the fingers.

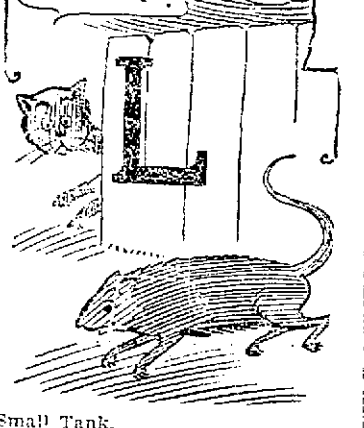

Hair has been analyzed and is found to contain five vital substances. Unless these are in correct quantities, hair loses its vigor. It dies, falls out, turns gray, dandruff and baldness result. When the missing substances are restored, a remarkable change results. Vola-Vita restores these missing substances so wonderfully that hair quickly begins to grow. Invigorated even on shiny bald heads, dandruff and baldness are sure to disappear. The color of the hair—whether it was black, brown or blond—is restored to its original color. No gray, faded or bleached hair, without dye or stain.

Vola-Vita contains no alcohol to dry up hair sections and induce hair growth. There is no other hair treatment in the world like it. Satisfaction guaranteed.

"You certainly have a preparation that performed a miracle in my case. My hair has been perfect since I used it. After three applications of Vola-Vita my hair was as clear of dandruff as the palm of my hand."—C. E. Clem, Chicago, Ill.

Vola-Vita is sold at all drug stores, $1.00 a bottle, or sent direct by Vola-Vita Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold at Janesville, J. L. Baker, People's Drug Co., Smith Drug, Baker Drug, 100, Red Cross Pharmacy, W. T. Sherer, McNeely & Sons.

THE NEW CLARION

By... WILL N. HARBEN

Copyright, 1914, by Harper & Brothers

"He shan't do it—my boy shan't lower himself!" burst from Mrs. Tinsley's tight throat. "Howard hasn't done wrong. If he was such a fool as to believe all his pals tried to pound into him I'd not respect him a bit. I want him just like he is. Would a man like Abner Daniel put money behind him if he was like Howard? Not much, he wouldn't. In this day of progress an enlightenment, all Howard's cold blooded ideas about the Bible make a regular friend of me. But when Howard explains it in his way I know he is right and feel uplifted."

A few days later Abner and Howard were in full possession of all pertaining to the Clarion. Howard, elated over a congratulatory telegram from his brother and the happiness of his wife over her coming change of residence, was in and out through the day giving this or that advice in regard to the management.

"I'm as green as a long handled gourd in the business," Abner smiled at Howard, once when they were alone and working without their coats in the office, "but I'm willing to learn new tricks. Stop me the minute I start to make a wrong move. You are the boss, but if I can help a little bit I'll be tickled. It is a new game to me, and I'm going to give me a lot of fun. As I see it, we must draft out a fresh policy and make it known in our first new issue. I'm glad you think the independent basis is good. I'm a Democrat—died in the wool—it was shot into me like burnt powder from Yankee guns, and some of it stuck to my bones, but I've got good friends that was Union men and are Republicans now. I never liked to hear 'em called black, because they always treated me white. I've got friends that are Populists and a few that fancy they are Socialists, and I don't want to offend any of 'em. Bold on the fence is a good thing, for then we can drop on the side of any issue that needs our aid. Say, I want to tell you some'n, and yet I feel sorter ashamed to do it."

"What is it?" Howard asked, deeply interested.

"Why, you see"—Abner actually blushed—"I don't want to brag or sound my own horn even to you, but since the report has got out of this deal of our'n a lot of folks has come to me and said that they wish I'd run a department on the editorial page under my own initials, and write just as plain as I talk. 'There is a lot of plain people in these mountains, and they like to plain things. With your education you kin pander to the other sort o' folks, but if you don't object, why?—"

"Object?" Howard cried, enthusiastically. "It will be the very life of the paper. You really are a philosopher, Uncle Ab. You don't know it, but you are."

"Well, anyways"—Abner took the compliment gracefully—"ridin' out home last night, and even after I got to bed, a notion for a sort of first word from me kept runnin' in my head, and this mornin' just after breakfast—out at the stable, of all places—I jotted it down. If—if you wouldn't mind I'll read it to you. It ain't so overly long, for I've billed it down into as tight a wad as possible."

"Fire away!" Howard cried. "I'll bet it is all right."

Slowly Abner rose, and, going to his coat hanging from a nail on the wall, he took a crumpled piece of paper from a pocket. Unfolding it, and clearing his throat, he began to read aloud:

"To one and all hearty greetings! How's that for big type at the top of the first column?" Abner asked, as he looked up.

CHAPTER VII.

Publisher Daniel.

"PLENID!" Howard cried. "Go ahead."

"Friends an' fellow citizens, Abner compiled in the declaratory tone of a rural preacher. 'We have taken hold of this newspaper with the intention o' pumpin' fresh, hot, red blood into 'er veins, or puttin' meat an' muscle on 'er bones an' makin' 'er serve a useful purpose to the community.'"

Here Abner paused and looked at Howard above the paper he was holding.

"I'm a little afraid 'Hillhouse is goin' to be mad at that statement as well as our chargin' the name Clarion to the New Clarion, but he will be down in Augusta an' needn't read it unless he likes. 'This here town,' Abner read on, 'has been in need of a live sheet for the last quarter of a century. The Clarion was flung to the breeze away before the war, but we ain't goin' to blow or brag about 'er age, for 'er small place in the past ain't nothin' to be proud of."

"In the first place, we are goin' to stand fer boomin' our town an' surroundin' country. We are goin' to advocate paved streets and sidewalks in town an' good usable roads in the country. 'There are some occupied an' unoccupied piggins right back of our sacrum, the stench o' which ain't to our taste, an' this mornin' we found a friend's brindle cow halfway up the stairs to our quarters. We don't know whether she was lookin' fer 'er calf or one of us."

"Last spring we saw seven wagons mired up to the hub within three miles of Darley, an' blushed with patriotic shame as we got down an' helped the owners make a corduroy road out o' fence rails split an' owned by another man before the horses an' mules could stir a peg. We don't wish harm to other towns, but we are goin' to make Darley the metropolis o' the Cherokee section."

"Another item. In takin' over this property we bought all debts owing to the Clarion, an' as the Lord is our hope an' mainstay we didn't know that was so many crooks walkin' on two legs in decent society. Our worthy predecessor must have been an easy mark. We've spotted this gang, and from this on when we shake hands with one of them an' say good mornin' or ask about the weather we'll just have one thing in mind, an' that will be the coin that's jinglin' in the wrong pocket."

"We'll tell you what to do for your rheumatism, how to avoid your wife's tongue without a divorce an' how to cure the sore on your mare's back, when a black line is drawn across your account, not before."

"Another item. Cash down is to be our slogan. We want it understood, too, that we have got enough home knit socks to last a lifetime. We ain't runnin' a produce store either. Time was when a farmer could pick up an overripe watermelon in his patch, catch a hen too old to lay or a rooster too high death to be gallant, take it to his editor an' leave a poem a yard long in memory of his wife's mother an' call it square. But as both of us are confirmed bachelors we ain't interested in table stuff or mother-in-laws."

"A new railroad is bein' talked of in high financial circles, an' we believe we kin influence it to head this way. 'That assured, cotton factories, woolen mills an' foundries will follow to make use of our wonderful buildin' sites, water power an' other natural resources.'"

"Good, good! Couldn't be better or more to the point!" Howard cried enthusiastically. "That is another idea I had," Abner went on, with less embarrassment. "See what you think about it. The Clarion has had for a good many years a mighty lively bunch o' rural correspondents that hit an' slap at one another in a witty an' friendly way. Now, to my mind, they can be made a wonderful help to us."

"They certainly can," Howard declared.

"Well, my idea is to make 'em even more interested than they ever have been," Abner suggested, "an' this is what occurred to me: Livin' so wide apart as they do, half o' 'em ain't seen the other half, an' it would be a lot o' fun to fetch 'em together in a sort o' whoopin' up convention here in town. I'm willin' to pay fer the grub, an' I'd like to give a big spread some night at the Johnston House an' have music an' speeches an' even dancin' if they like."

"You are as full of original ideas as a nut is of meat, Uncle Abner," Howard said in great admiration.

At this juncture Tarp, the merchant, bustled in.

"I was passin'," he said, wiping his perspiring brow on a cheap handkerchief with the price mark on it, "an' I thought I'd drop in an' endorse your more. Say, gentlemen, I'll bet you haven't thought about it—I mean you haven't thought of J. L. Tarp in connection with your new enterprise, but I'll bet you will when I tell you a thing or two. To begin with—wait! There is a fellow down below with two boxes of cotton that I've bid on. If I get the cotton he will buy ten bolts of sheeting, a lot of boots and shoes from me and a supply o' coffee and sugar. I don't want the foreigners across the street to nab 'im. They've been chargin' him for an hour—fairly cryin' on his shoulders—telling him I was a faker. But I think I've got 'im nailed. I told the brood of children he was with him that when they got to my place, I'd give them all a big stick of candy each. They won't let the old man rest till he's hitched at my store. I hardly sell a pound o' candy a week, but I buy it by the barrel at wholesale rates to give away."

Tarp here thrust his head and shoulders out of a window and, with his hands on the outer sill, called:

"Drive it down to the side door, old man, an' dump it off. The boys will very end, and then come use a fire-cracker. Sometimes I make 'em study pretty hard before the idea is fully reached. I got up one two years ago that folks mention even today. If it didn't take too long I'd turn back to your files and read it to you."

"You think $25 is a fair price for a full page ad. in the New Clarion?" asked Abner. "If you don't double it the type won't be set up in this office. We intend to live an' let live. You think yore shebang is goin' to draw grist to our mill, but the shoe is on t'other foot—the one with the corn on it that seems to bother you this mornin'."

"I'm afraid we can't work together, then," Tarp sighed.

"Not fer yore stick candy, anyway," Abner laughed. "Save that fer children to suck. Me an' Howard are a-goin' to git paid fair fer every ad. that is printed in our paper, an' don't you forget it. Now, I've got a little piece of stick candy fer you, J. L., an' you kin suck it on the way to the store. There foreigners across the street have already been talkin' about some big display ads. We won't have space fer more than one full page ad. in our first issue, an' if they take it it will pay 'em like smoke."

"They say they have bought out a whoopin' big bankrupt stock in Cleveland that's bein' shipped here now, an' they want to announce it. They say they will throw it on the market at half price. It will create a big stir in financial circles an' do us some good to have such a whoopin' up rally in front of our office, for we will git a whack at the mob goin' an' comin' an' collect some old accounts an' nail down some new subscribers."

With a subtle smile Tarp was leaving when Hillhouse came in. Jerking his thumb in the direction of the vanishing merchant, he said: "Look out for him. He is the hardest chap to make terms with in seven states. He wiggles like an eel when you try to pin him down to reasonable prices."

"You haven't once thought of J. L. Tarp."

allow you good weight. All right, all right. You know the big red sign over the sidewalk—Tarp's Emporium?"

The merchant drew his head in and smiled in satisfaction. "He had already started. The lady did the work. One of the little boys was holdin' the reins, an' another was whippin' up the team. One of the foreigners was runnin' along at 'ak side pleadin' like the woods alive, but I landed my man. I really ought to be there to see that cotton put on the scales though. Those scales may be waterlogged."

"Waterlogged?" Howard inquired.

"What is that?"

"Oh, now an' then a bale is soaked clean through with water, left in the creek overnight to give it weight. I've run a sampler into a bale in my time an' got out enough water to satisfy the thirst. A bale o' that sort when it lies on the ground will start a regular spring."

"That's the farmer's stick candy racket," Abner remarked dryly. "But you said you come in to tell us—"

"Oh, yes, I was about to tell you fellows know where I come in on your new deal of yours. Money in your till, of course, is the main thing, an' I'm a free spender with a home paper if it is a good one. Now, the glad tidings of J. L. Tarp's Dry Goods and General Merchandise Emporium is spreading over three counties around Darley. My cut price system is doing a lot to build up the town, and all my advertisements are gobbled up like election returns."

"They say you have knocked out the patent inside idea, and you will want to fill that space with something fresh and catchy. Now, I'm just the man to fill it with items about what is takin' place in my emporium. Time after time I've come to Hillhouse with the intention of sticking in a full page ad, but he wouldn't listen to me. He figured on 'em once or twice, an' wanted to charge me at a rate that no live business man could stand. So he forced me to send to Rome to have my handbills printed. Now I'm goin' to bring in the copy for a bang up full page announcement, an' if you can meet my estimate, why, I'll know that the right man have got hold of the Clarion at last."

"Have you any idea how much you could afford to pay for a full page ad. in our next issue?" Abner asked. "We are goin' to send out an' give away 5,000 copies, so the public will know we are here. An ad. in that issue would be a whoopin' big thing fer you."

"I haven't figured on it," Tarp deliberated. "and I figure on everything—even to the twine we use in tying up bundles at the wrapping counter; but at a rough guess I should say that I could pay $25."

"For the ink an' paper?" Abner winked slyly at Howard and half smiled.

"For the whole thing," the merchant said firmly. "You will be short of news, and I tell you that I get an ad. up in a way that is so bright and full o' meat that folks out 'em out and paste 'em in their scrap books an' read 'em out loud at school exhibitions. I've simply gazed at the local column at the sort that fools the reader till the

EUROPE'S FIGHTERS TAKE STREET CARS TO BATTLE TRENCH

Day of Hiking Is Over, for Auto Buses Carry Soldiers Almost to Edge of Their Trenches.

By Henry Wood.
Paris, June 22.—The day of hiking is over. Nowadays the soldier goes to battle just as you go to your office, store or mill—in a street car or its equivalent, the motor bus.

Even so short a time ago the beginning of the great European war, it was not the case. Trains carried most of the troops to within a few miles from the battlefield, and from point on they marched afoot in the mud, exhausted way.

A few thousand men went into the battle of the Marne in taxis, from Paris. This, too, probably will never happen again.

New motorbuses are operating like street cars all along the front. The only difference is, there are more motorbuses in the fighting zone than there are on the most frequent run in New York, Chicago or any other large American city.

They form almost endless processions. Down the long stretches of front there are one sees buses, buses and nothing but buses.

It is a great thing for the soldier, ends a period of repose in an unbroken back of the line some place, crops out the door of his billet and boards a "street car."

Pack on his back, gun between his knees, he and his thousands of bullets sit in easy-riding motorbuses and return to work.

By taking advantage of the darkness and the many good roads, new and old, he rides almost up to the very trench he is to occupy.

Then he gets out the troops he replaces, troops who have been on the job for several days and are now ready for a rest, come out of the trenches, sit down in the motorbuses and ride a few miles back into the country.

It is just like the shift hour in a big factory. The new hands fall off the street cars and go to work; the off-shift pour out of the factory and onto the street cars for a ride home and rest.

It is rare to see soldiers nowadays come out by long marches. Infantry on the hike is a comparatively unknown thing. Near Verdun I saw several detachments of men standing in line by the roadside. It was so unusual I asked them, "Why?"

"Wait a minute," said a staff captain, "wait until we get round the bend in the road."

When we got round the bend in the road there were the waiting buses. The men had simply gotten out to stretch their legs.

They take good care of the fighting men in General Joffre's armies. Formerly they were sent to march along dusty roads, their officers riding at their sides on horseback. Today the men, streetcar to war, their commanders riding amongst them in touring cars.

The defense of Verdun was planned and executed on the supposition that no railroads were available. Every soldier was by road.

The artillery, big guns and little, which used to be drawn slowly into action behind weary horses, now dash up to their positions mounted bodily on motor trucks.

It is quite a common sight to see several batteries of 75's, caissons and guns both, loaded upon high-horse-drawn trucks, sailing down the road like a streetcar.

Motorbuses and trucks are practically standardized now. The same motor bus carries guns, shells, soldiers, cartridges, grenades, food. That is, they can haul them if necessary. Of course for the sake of order, there are motor trucks for every purpose and ordinarily they work to that purpose.

Still, if reinforcements are needed an ammunition train, under the present arrangements, can be almost instantly converted into a troop train. And vice versa.

The battle of Verdun was almost a battle of motorbuses. The success of the French in staving off the German drive was a success of the up-to-date system of street-car-ing to war.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS LEARN ART OF WAR AT PLATTSBURG CAMP

Top, Plattsburg rookies shoring cinders for company streets. Bottom, making a stone road.

These are busy days at the Plattsburg military training camp on Lake Champlain, where some thousands of American citizens are learning the gentle art of war. The first encampment began early in June, and will give way to a second encampment early in July. It is estimated that throughout the country fully 60,000 citizens will avail themselves of the opportunity to take training at the summer camps before fall.

Orfordville News

Orfordville, Wis., June 21.—Dr. Mitchell of Brodhead was in the village on professional business on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Q. Heyerdahl and Miss Alice Rossiter have gone to Superior where they will spend several days at the state meeting of the Beavers. They are representatives of the local lodge.

Delbert Parkerson of Chicago is the guest of Orfordville friends. He is visiting at the home of his aunt, Miss Ruth Cleveland.

Frank Purdy took a company of boys for a fishing outing on Tuesday. They expect to be gone several days and will doubtless have great "fish stories" to tell when they return.

The railroad company are filling the depression between tracks on Beloit street, with cinders. A car arrived on Wednesday morning and was cared for by the section hands.

Dr. T. W. Nugum and family of Janesville were in the village for a short time on Tuesday afternoon.

TWO YANKEE AVIATORS
BREAK RECORDS IN FRANCE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Paris, June 22.—Robert Rockwell of Philadelphia and Paul Pavelka of Madison, Conn., have broken two records in their preparatory training at the Military Flying School at Buc, according to information given out at the headquarters of the Franco-American flying corps.

Rockwell completed his trial flights required before incorporation in the corps in 23 hours and was publicly congratulated by the other command.

ing the school. Pavelka, who, previous to enlisting in the flying corps, served fourteen months in the trenches with the foreign legion, established a record in pistol shooting while in the air. He placed twelve bullets out of twelve shots in the head of a moving silhouette, representing the body of a man, at a distance of 100 yards. His work with the machine gun is said to be fully equal to his precision with a revolver. Pavelka now has his license for the most recent addition to French aviation, the new fast Nieuport biplanes, as well as the other machines in the service.

Willis Haviland of Chicago and Frederick Prince of Boston have also finished their preliminary training at Buc, and have gone to Pau to familiarize themselves with the newest machines before going to the front. Pavelka is completing his preparation at the Aerial Artillery School at Gizeux. Robert Soubrin of New York, whose preparation was delayed by illness, will soon undertake his official trials and then join the corps.

FIFTEEN MILLION WAGE INCREASE WILL BE GIVEN LABORERS IN CLEVELAND

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Cleveland, June 22.—Wage increases affecting 100,000 workers here and totaling $15,000,000 annually have been or will be granted before July 1, according to figures compiled by John Owens, Cleveland federation of labor secretary.

Owens estimates that half the men and women working here, numbering 200,000, will benefit in wage boosts, at an average of not less than fifty cents a day each.

Common labor, which has advanced from $2 to $2.50, is scarce at the latter figure. A quarry strike at a nearby town affected 500 men who asked that their pay be raised to $2.50. Before the quarry could settle it, Clevelanders had hired all the strikers at their own prices.

Many thousands of workers here already have been granted more pay, including 10,000 steel workers. Agreements have been signed affecting over 20,000 other employees and granting wage boosts of from twenty cents to $1.20 per day per man.

Machinists and building laborers numbering 10,000 have made demands or plan to make them for increases ranging from thirty to fifty cents a day.

In practically every industry in the Cleveland district, workers have begun to share or intend to share in the prosperity of the mills and factories.

KOREAN WOLVES KILL MANY PEOPLE AND STOCK DURING THE LAST YEAR

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Seoul, Korea, June 22.—Accustomed as Koreans are to the attacks of wild animals in the mountains, they have been astonished to learn that during the last year 129 people were killed by beasts and that over 2,000 domestic animals were either killed or injured.

This havoc was wrought by tigers, leopards, bears and Korean wolves, but it was the wolf according to official statistics, that did the greatest amount of harm. It is estimated that these ferocious creatures slew 113 persons and injured 60, besides killing or injuring 1,700 cattle and 1,519 other domestic animals.

The Korean wolf, which is locally known as the neuktal, is a powerful animal of the canine species, a little larger but longer and thinner than the native Korean dog. In color it is brown and gray. It possesses piercing eyes and in face of danger or while capturing prey shows wonderful agility, hiding itself in underbrush, jumping over the cliffs or swiftly swimming across rivers and lakes. In attacking a pony or cow it will leap upon the victim's back and kill instantly by eating open some vital part.

In attacking a man it will follow him for a time and occasionally leap over his head, seeking to unnerve him, and cause him to fall the ground, when it will immediately attack and kill. Oftentimes it will summon its mates to assist in attacking. There are instances of where a wolf has carried off a big boy for a considerable distance or where it has jumped over a high wall with a pig in its mouth.

The Korean authorities are exerting every effort to exterminate the animal and rewards are offered for each wolf that is killed.

ETERO IN THE FORM OF A HUMAN HAND FALLS
AFTER DEATH OF YOUTH

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Linwood, N. J., June 22.—A meteor in the form of a human hand fell from the sky and buried itself in the ground near Henry Pranti's farmhouse within forty-eight hours after the death of his 14-year-old son.

Mrs. Pranti today declined to surrender the meteor to any of the several meteorologists who came here after it, saying that she believed it was a message from her boy.

Mrs. Pranti is suspicious and has taken a great deal with spiritualists since the meteor dropped from the sky.

The object is light in weight and color, has no odor and is unlike meteoric compositions usually found in the part of the world. The resemblance to a human right hand is striking, almost uncanny. The thumb and index finger are unusually long. The nails show distinctly. The first, middle and ring fingers are drawn together and curve slightly inward. The little stump is charred, as though it had been burned off. The Prantis will encase the hand in glass and keep it.

Prince Alexander Ferdinand and his mother.

Prince Alexander Ferdinand, the sturdy youngster seen in this photograph with his arms twined about his mother, the Princess Victoria, is the only son of Prince August Wilhelm, the German kaiser's fourth son. The young prince was born in 1913. His mother, before her marriage to Prince August in 1908, was the Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, a cousin

BOTH CHICAGO CLUBS LOSE DOUBLE GAMES

George Foster Pitches a No-Hit Game for Boston.—Detroit Tigers in Tie With Cleveland.

Both Chicago teams slipped back into the rut Wednesday, when they dropped double-headers, the Cubs being beaten by the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 2, and 3 to 2 at Chicago. The White Sox even made a worse showing, for the St. Louis Browns ran all over them in the first game, 11 to 1, and took the second game, 2 to 1.

The double defeats dropped the Cubs into sixth place, while the Sox lost a good chance to move up within three games of the leaders. The Cubs were without the Great Zimmerman, which may, and may not, have had something to do with their defeat. Fred Poney's pitching and a two-bagger in the pinch by the twirler, scoring two runs, won the first game. The second game the Cubs handed to the Reds as Laverdier was wild and Moseley's slab work had the Cubs mastered.

In the St. Louis double bill, the Browns put a man on the base lines every time the first game, which started but was ousted when two runs were scored off him. Then the Browns pounded run after run off Cicotte and Benz. In the second game Scott and Russell pitched a game, but timely hitting by Pratt and Johnson won this game.

Detroit went into a tie with Cleveland by defeating the Indians 3 to 2, through great fielding and pitching. Detroit won the game in the sixth inning when Cobb tripped and scored on a wild throw. Veach scored in the same inning on a single. Cobb was the hitting star, for in the eighth he not a screaming double and scored on two put-outs at first.

George Foster pitched a no-hit game for the Boston Red Sox against the New York Americans, winning his game 2 to 0. Not a Yankee player reached first until the seventh inning, when Summner was passed. Foster had great control and his defense was perfect. Lewis drove in both runs for the winners.

U. O. F. BOWLING TEAM WIN OVER OSBORN'S COLTS

The sport of bowling seems to have returned as there was another match game at the Miller alley, Osborn's Colts and the U. O. F. came out, and the latter came out the winner by sixty-two pins. Kimball rolled the high score, knocking down 275 pins. Following are the scores and line-ups:

ZIMMERMAN IS INJURED CRIPPLING THE "CUBS"

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Chicago, June 22.—An X-ray examination Wednesday afternoon established that Heinie Zimmerman, Cubs' star third baseman, had broken his right shoulder blade and probably would be out of the game for weeks.

Zimmerman fell while visiting at Fitch's Vaughn's flat Tuesday night. The accident to Heinie is the worst bit of hard luck that has happened to the Cubs this season. The team was just hitting its pace. Manager Tinker decided, when the accident nipped up the lineup.

Rollie Zeider will play third base until Zimmerman recovers.

HARVARD TAKES SECOND GAME AND SERIES FROM YALE

Cambridge, Mass., June 22.—By defeating Yale Wednesday, 4 to 1, Harvard clinched the three game series with that university, having won the first game at New Haven Tuesday, 5 to 2. A crowd estimated at 15,000 saw the contest, which had the usual comment, game side features, including a parade of the various classes in uniform, the singing of class songs and a peanut battle between classes in the grandstand.

JANESVILLE STRONGS WIN GAME BY SCORE OF 9 TO 1

The Janesville Strongs defeated the Gund's Peoria club in a one-sided game by the score of 9 to 1. The battery was Breidy and Thiedes for the losers and the winning team's line-up was as follows: Flynn, c; Hager, p; Bick, p; H. Bick, 1b; Dawson, 2b; R. Cullen, 3b; M. Dawson, J. Cullen and Slightam, fielders.

Pitcher George Foster of the Red Sox, who was severely spiked by Oscar Stanage of the Tigers, and since has been unable to play, rejoined his team in St. Louis. During his layoff he visited his farm in Oklahoma and found the crops coming on flourishingly.

CAREY PLAYS FAST GAME FOR PIRATES

Max Carey.

Max Carey, the Pirate outfielder, is playing one of the fastest outfield games in the National league and has displayed so far more speed on the bases than any of his associates. It looks at present most likely that Max will cop the stolen base record for the season.

Sport Snap Shots MORRIS MILLER

During the last ten years in baseball every team in the National and American leagues, with the exception of the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants, have had two or more managers. Ten years ago John McGraw was managing the Giants and Connie Mack was leading the Athletics. These two men are still piloting those teams and bid fair to do so for many years to come.

McGraw started his career with the Giants in 1903. Under him the New Yorkers won the National league pennant in 1904 and 1905 and the world's title in 1905. They lost the National league championship in 1908 because of McKie's famous "hozer" and finished third in 1908. In 1910 the Giants finished second and were first in 1911, 1912 and 1913. The Giants lost the world's series with the Athletics in 1911, lost to the Boston Red Sox in 1912, and in 1913 were again beaten by the Athletics for the big honors. In 1914 the Giants were voted out of the pennant fight by the Braves after the latter had made a whirlwind finish.

ROOMING WILLIAM TO BREAK WORLD'S RECORD MADE IN 1915 BY DIRECTUM I

William (top) and Directum I.

William is now being trained at North Randall, Ohio, by "Doc" Tanner, to break the record of his old enemy, Directum I, which set the paced mark at 1:56 3/4, at Syracuse last fall, the fastest mile ever negotiated by a harness horse "in the open," that is, without a pacemaker in front to break the wind.

In 1915 for the first time in McGraw's management they finished in the cellar.

Connie Mack organized the Athletics in 1901. They won the American league championship in 1902, 1905, 1910, 1911, 1912, and 1914. They also captured the world's title in 1910 from the Cubs and from the Giants in 1911 and 1912. Last year they finished last for the first time in their career.

Miller Huggins got away with some rough stuff last season and prevented several outbreaks in his team, and rumors have come thick and fast this season about dissensions on the St. Louis club and of several players holding personal feelings toward each other, but the first public demonstration came recently in New York, when Harry Sellie and Huggins came together. Hot words were exchanged and only by the action of other players were blows prevented. Sallee tore up his contract and left the club. Huggins immediately placed his pitcher's name on the suspended list. The claim was made that Huggins blocked a deal whereby Sallee had an opportunity of becoming a member of the Giant team with a nice salary. This is not the first time that McGraw has been accused of starting dissension among other teams, but the trick is so old that it is foolish for anyone to fall for it. The Cardinal team will be severely crippled without Sallee. If reports are true more trouble will develop among the players.

Turkey Thomas, probably the most advertised class B player in the country, is in the spotlight again. Thomas, who was awarded to the Hamilton club by President Tarnsey after pitching one game for Rockford, is quoted by a Hamilton newspaper as saying he went without food for twenty-four hours as a result of the refusal of the Rockford club to pay him for his five days' service. The story has gone all over the Three Eyes circuit. Rockford club officials have taken prompt action. President T. D. Reber telegraphed the Hamilton paper in question that he would give $500 in gold to any charitable institution in Hamilton for proof that he "ever refused a soul on earth the price of a good meal or a night's lodging. Turkey Thomas included," and demanding a retraction of the story.

Jimmy Wilde, British flyweight champion, is a remarkably clever lad. The lad weighs only about 100 pounds, but despite this he has been meeting boxers weighing anywhere from 135 to 155 pounds in nearly all his matches, and some of them high class boys. If some of the boxers in this country were asked to give away so much weight they would die of heart failure.

Fine Field.
Madge—"Did you have anything to talk about at the club meeting?" Marjorie—"Lots! On account of the storm there were only three of us present."—Judge.

PIRATES SEEM TO HAVE MORTGAGE ON SEVENTH POSITION; PITTSBURGH ONE OF FEW TEAMS WEAKER THAN LAST YEAR

The Pittsburgh Pirates look weaker this year, compared with the other teams in the National league, than ever before. They are considerably weaker than was the case last year, and apparently are doomed to occupy seventh or eighth place. They have only one first-class pitcher, Mammoth. In other years Honus Wagner has been a great help to the team, but he is getting old. Manager Jimmy Callahan admits that he has a man's job on his hands.

LETTER TO A YOUNG LADY
Dear Ethel: Your last letter is very interesting as an exhibit, but I don't think much of it as a letter. Looking it up and looking at it at arm's length it is very interesting.

I notice that your letter is mostly paper. The space between the lines is several times greater than the space occupied by lines, and I observe that you use a penmanship that fills a line nicely with a minimum of words. These letters that you young ladies write, with lots of room between the lines, appeal to me as traps for young men to rush in where angels fear to tread. You believe in giving a young man lots of room for his imagination.

I don't like being left to my imagination. I refuse to read between the lines. When it comes to young ladies' letters, I want lines.

So your next letter, you will please write compactly. In your next letter I wish you would please write some lines. You and I are either going to get acquainted or we are not going to get acquainted.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE

Somewhat the above did not make a very big hit with Ethel. We guess it cramps Ethel to write closely. Ethel used to write the bulkiest letters we ever received, and now that she has cut us off it will do a great deal to relieve the white paper famine.

True Mahogany.

More than half of the 40,000,000 feet of "mahogany" consumed every year in this country is not mahogany. There are a score of imitation woods but one chief one. The so-called Colombian mahogany, according to monograph just issued by the forest service, belongs to the monkey-pod family, Lecythideaceae, otherwise known as Carliniana perfrutens. Its grain and color resemble the wood of mahogany, and its straight cylindrical trunk, averaging three feet in diameter and with a clear length of 50 feet, admirably adapts it for lumbering. The cabinet-makers like it as well as the true mahogany. Why not call it by its true name, Carliniana?

HOW THE GERMANS OBTAIN MEAT FOR TABLE IN CITIES

Injustice Claimed in Distribution of Meagre Supply of Meat—Raided
On the Markets.

By William G. Shepherd.
Rottterdam, June 22.—Many families in Germany go meatless for days and weeks at a time. This I have from a neutral business man of Dresden.
"It's as bad as housecleaning to get meat. It upsets our whole household economy as well as our financial economy. It's a dreadful operation and we don't go through it oftener than we have today. In the last sixteen days we have had meat twice," he said.

"Fish, new asparagus just in the market, potatoes, spinach and dry crumbling bread made largely of potato flour, make up our list of edibles. We get so tired of it we hate to eat it. Sometimes we even get so tired of it we decide we'll have meat. Then there's trouble."

"He was requested to go into the details of a meat purchase in a German town."

"Well, it's like this," he said. "When we decide to have meat my wife and I talk it over the night before. If the next day is Tuesday or Friday we can't buy anything but fish, for those are meatless days."

"My wife calls our maid and says:
"Elizabeth, we want you to buy a beefsteak for us tomorrow." Elizabeth frowns and goes to the office."

"This means that Elizabeth must get up at 4 o'clock the next morning and go to the nearest butcher shop and stand in line until her turn comes to buy meat or until the butcher comes to the door and says: 'The waiting line, I'm all sold out of meat.'"

"It is always a four or five hour job for her unless she wants to get into the line at one o'clock in the morning, as some maids do."

"When my wife and I get up, Elizabeth is down at the butcher shop and so I have to wait the fire, while my wife gets breakfast. I go to the office and Elizabeth comes home at eight or nine o'clock, sore on the whole world."

"Sometimes she has been able to get meat but more often than not she comes back empty handed."

"Officially there are only two meatless days a week but in reality you find the butcher shops meatless day
after day."

"I call up my wife sometimes during the morning to find out whether we are going to have meat for supper.
If she says we are, I'm happy all day.
You'd be surprised to know how much difference a little meat makes."

"How much would Elizabeth pay for a beefsteak?"

"Five marks and half a pound."

"How we linger over supper when we have meat," Elizabeth hasn't done any work all day. She has been upset by her morning experience."

"You read of food riots in Berlin.
That was only Elizabeth and her fellows fighting to keep their places in the line."

"But about supper time Elizabeth wakes up, cooks the meat and brings
it in with smiles all over her face.
She knows she'll get her share. But if we asked her to go out for meat every meat day she wouldn't stay with us."

"That's where the rich folks come in. They can hire maids who have no other work but to go through the meat raid daily."

"There are injustices galore about the food distribution in Berlin. That is why they have food riots in front of the Reichstag and in front of butcher shops."

DECIDE ON DATE TO NAME STATE TICKET

Republican State Convention Will Probably be Held at University Gymnasium on July 12.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Milwaukee, June 22.—It has tentatively been agreed to hold the republican state convention in the university gymnasium, Madison, at 2 p. m., Wednesday, July 12. The call,
which will be issued by George A.
West, will be an invitation to all republicans to participate in a conference called in the interest of republican victory in the nation and in Wisconsin.

Candidates for state offices will be indorsed, and a Wisconsin platform will be drafted. A resolution will be introduced indorsing the presidential campaign of Charles Evans Hughes, and the platform adopted at the republican national convention.

The administration of Gov. E. L.
Phillips will be indorsed, and the convention is expected to go on record
as favoring the senatorial candidacy of M. G. Jeffris, Janesville.

Selection of a presiding officer and other details concerning the convention have not been decided upon. Gov.
Phillips hopes to be in Madison when the meeting is called in the gymnasium, but he will not be well enough to address the delegates.

During his brief visit in Milwaukee
Tuesday Mr. Jeffris called on Mr.
Phillips at Milwaukee hospital. The governor is optimistic over the outlook for the republican party in the election of Mr. Hughes over President Wilson. Months ago he expressed the opinion that with Hughes as the standard bearer, the republican party would be returned to power.

Interests will be especially interesting date in Wisconsin politics
as the democratic state convention is scheduled to be held in Milwaukee
on that date.

BILL BEFORE CONGRESS FOR RAISING NEW BREED OF HORSES FOR CAVALRY.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Washington, June 22.—On the report of army officers that the European war has robbed the United States
of most of its suitable cavalry horses, Senator Pittman of Nevada is rat-hering a bill for government aid in breeding a new supply.

Attention was called on this military weakness of the country when officers were able to buy cavalry re-mounts for the Mexican campaign only at unusually high prices, and those of inferior quality.

Officers reported to Pittman before he introduced his bill that there are only 20,000 cavalry horses in the country suitable for immediate use.
Since the European war opened,
1,500,000 American horses and mules
have been exported.

"Horses for cavalry should be rather small, decidedly hardy and intelligent," said Senator Pittman today.
"We have plenty of heavy horses for commercial use, but the auto truck has largely done away with their military value. What is needed is a supply of ponies able to do scout duty."

"This breed is obtained by crossing thoroughbred and western plain stock.
The co-operation of breeders of the eastern thoroughbred states with western growers, under the supervision of the federal government, is required.
There is no feature of the preparedness program more pressing than the creation of a suitable cavalry horse type."

The $200,000 sought by Pittman is under consideration by the appropriations committee.

BUCKMASTER TO TALK AT STATE MEETING OF HEALTH OFFICERS

Important Questions of Public Health and Sanitation to be Discussed at Biennial Conference.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, Wis., June 22.—Health officers of Wisconsin, many physicians and laymen and several distinguished authorities from outside fields will attend the third biennial conference of health officers in the capitol, August 2 and 3. Attendance is required by law of all local health officers, whose expenses must be paid by their respective municipalities.

The program announced today
covers a wide range of subjects relating to efficient public health administration and questions of sanitation and hygiene. One of the principal addresses will be delivered by Dr. W.
A. Evans, Chicago, who will speak at a public evening meeting in the assembly chamber. A representative of the United States Public Health service will also participate in the program.

For Wednesday, August 2, the program will be as follows:
"Public Health," Dr. W. F. Whyte, president state board of health, Madison.

"Best Methods of Keeping Municipal Health Records," Dr. J. F. Parr,
Eau Claire; discussion by Dr. C. M.
Gould, Superior; Dr. S. B. Buck-
master, Janesville; Dr. S. C. Mc-Cordie, West Allis. "Full Time Health Officers," Dr. C. R. Bardeen, dean, college of medicine, University of Wisconsin; discussion by Dr. H. L.
Wright, Kenosha; Dr. F. M. McGee,
Fond du Lac; Dr. A. H. Broche, Oshkosh.

Afternoon—Address, Gov. E. L.
Phillips. "Powers and Duties of Health Officers," Attorney General W.
C. Owen. "Safeguarding a Municipal Health Supply," Dr. H. L. Bryant, Milwaukee health department, discussion by Dr. W. E. Zilisch, Wausau; Dr. T. J. Oliver, Green Bay; Dr. J. E.
Meany, Manitowish. "Examination of Blood of Syphilis," Dr. W. F. Lorenz, Madison; discussion by Dr. W. E.
Gagge, Monroe; Dr. R. S. Elliott, Lacrosse; Dr. Karl Smith, Madison. "Question Box. Public health address (evening), Dr. W. A. Evans, Chicago.

Tuesday, August 3.—"Value of Public Health Nurses," Dr. J. M.
Furman, health commissioner, Lacrosse, and member of state board of health; discussion by Miss Katherine Olson, Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis
association, Milwaukee; Dr. Frank M.
Pearson, Tomahawk; Dr. Frank M. mainville, Grand Rapids. "Public Health Laboratories and Their Function," Dr. W. D. Storvall, director of state laboratory of hygiene, Madison;
discussion by Dr. F. J. Frey, Washburn; Dr. J. K. Schreiner, Westby; Dr. F. J. Antoine, Prairie du Chien.

"Hotel and Restaurant Regulations," Ray Smith, manager Hotel Plaster, Milwaukee; "Importance of Barber Shop Regulations," E. C. Puerner, state barber inspector, Fond du Lac;
"Plumbing and Its Relation to Public Health," Frank R. King, state plumbing inspector, Madison. Question Box.

Afternoon—Address by representative of the United States Public Health service. "County Tuberculosis Sanatoria," Otto P. Bradley, Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, Milwaukee. "How Can Boards of Health Save the Babies and Lessen
Infant Mortality," Dr. J. L. Wright,
Kenosha; discussion by Dr. George M.
Smith, Chippewa Falls; Dr. F. P.
Dohearty, Appleton; Dr. W. G. Sexion, Marshfield.

Other subjects suggested for general discussion are rabies, nuisances, diphtheria, quarantine, disinfection
and disinfectants.

This is considered the most important conference from a life-saving viewpoint, held in Wisconsin, that every health officer is expected to be present. All physicians and laymen who are interested in preventive medicine are also invited to attend and take part in the proceedings. The state board of health feels confident, according to one of its members, that no one who is interested in public health work or preventive medicine can afford to miss a conference of this character. It is frequently attended by sanitarians and public health authorities from other states.

RESIGNS AS PASTOR TO SERVE IN GUARD

Marinette Minister Enlists in Company 1—Plans to Return for Wedding in October.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Marinette, Wis., June 22.—Rev. J.
Batterchell, pastor of the First Baptist church of Marinette, has resigned his position as the same and has enlisted with Company 1, of the Wisconsin National Guard.

A month ago he came here from Omaha deciding to join the local military company with the idea of promoting commissary work in the armory
here. He will act as a correspondent for a local newspaper.

The young clergyman's wedding date was to be in October and he will try to carry out the wish of the girl if it is necessary to get a furlough.

Last night 500 people took part in the preparedness parade. Banners urging men to enlist in the company were carried. When the parade was over twenty men lined up at the armory and enlisted.

The Bo's'n's Nct.

A bo's'n's mate was in charge of a bunch of men hoisting and lowering a boat from the water to the dock. It was seen it would be necessary to have a block of wood put under the boat to make it set up even. The bo's'n's mate yelled: "Put a block under the boat! Use your head!"—

FIRST PHOTOGRAPHS OF WAR'S GREATEST NAVAL BATTLE SHOW OFFICERS AFTER FIGHT AND SHELL-TORN SIDE OF MAN-OF-WAR

Officers after the battle and (below) the side of an English man-of-war torn by shells.
The first photographs to arrive in America after the sea fight between the British and Germans, the greatest naval battle of the war, show a group of naval officers whose smiles seem to indicate a readiness for more of the same. The side of the English man-of-war, whose name has been deleted by the censor, is torn with shells and the jacks have stuffed the holes with their bedding.

DONALD MAY OPPOSE NELSON FOR CONGRESS

Madison, Wis., June 22.—The report was current here today that if John S. Donald is not renamed by the progressive conference, which gathers here this afternoon, as the republican candidate for secretary of state that in all probability he will be a candidate for congress against Congressman John M. Nelson. The first opposition which arose to Donald was A. T. Torge, who announced as his platform that he believed two terms
was sufficient for any office-holder.
Nelson has held the position for several terms. He is a near relative of
A. T. Torge.
